Greenbird Story Book Challenge 2011

This idea started when I found myself unable like so many other parents to throw away my children's artwork. A child's imagination is such a powerful tool in the early years. It bridges a way for adults to understand the magic of being a child all over again.

What's the plan?

Create an Islamic storybook which will teach a child about charity, ready for Eid 2011. This will be illustrated by children all around the world. The proceeds of the sales are completely for charity and all profits will go to a chosen Islamic Charities nearer the time.

How?

I want parents to send me their children's artwork either by post or scanned, with any relevance to charity and kindness for them. This covers a massive remit of topics and areas so no one has an excuse! If your child's artwork is used then their name/age/country will be published in the book. There are no age limits for the artists and short poems can accompany the artwork but no stories please.

Why?

Why not? In today's technology driven world so much can be accomplished if we all make small efforts. This is a great way for Muslims to connect globally; it teaches our children about the importance of charity and will make a great Eid Gift with a very important message Inshallah.

How to send

Please scan all art-work, remembering to write your child's name, age and country in the body of the email. We cannot use artwork which isn't named so please make sure you do this! Please send your pictures to the below email
